

May 25, 1983

LR 72

of building more offensive weapons. I think of the high technology that would come out from it. It would turn the economy simply around as when we went to the moon the last time. I really believe, ladies and gentlemen, we will have nuclear fusion in a very short few years and we don't have to worry about energy. Some of the other corny things I want to kind of relate to you, I am a sentimental, flag-waving. I love Nebraska. I love this country, and I would like to keep it this way. I would like to say to you, I was born in a sharecroppers family. My wife and I were sharecroppers for a number of years and I now own land. I know some of you are thinking, big deal, he owns land. You know, there are a lot of countries it is a big deal. No one in the communist country owns land. No one in several other countries can ever possibly dream of owning a piece of land. That dream is here in America and I would like to keep it. One other thing I would like to relate to you which probably sounds corny to some of you, along with all the rest of you 48 and myself I am proud to be a State Senator. I accomplished that from a plow jockey down here. I wasn't born of rich parents. I wasn't born of a certain party like you do in the communist nations. I wasn't born of a certain religion or a certain color. I like the opportunity of having America here and I like to be a flag-waver and I like to keep this country the way it is. I would like to unite the country back to the way it used to be and the way it will be again. I want to say to you I am...we are lucky to have a two-party system, but what we are doing too much now, we are listening to the people that is anti-America and I do not mean the people here in Nebraska or hardly anyone in the nation. What we are doing too much is listening to perhaps a third world, and anything...it seems to me that if the Republicans have something good for America, the Democrats jump on the bandwagon as being opposite of it, and vice versa, if the Democrats have something good the Republicans jump on the bandwagon at the same time. I am sure this is kind of a partisan issue. I am sure that if Carter was President now and he had the laser beam defense system coming up, the Democrats would say it is a very good system to have and there would be a lot of Republicans out being opposite of it. I just want to say to you one more time, this system if we go on record as encouraging Congress to pass this resolution, it will turn the economy completely around in America and make it once more what we intend it to be, the leading country in the world. Thank you.

PRESIDENT: The motion is to in effect raise the resolution from the committee despite the action of the committee. The